DANIEL FIGUEIREDO PARREIRA ROCHA

has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

Generative AI Strategic Leader

This specialization teaches executives and strategic leaders how to leverage generative AI tools, from foundational prompt engineering to advanced agentic AI systems that conduct autonomous research and analysis. You'll master deep research capabilities that deliver PhD-level strategic intelligence in minutes, enabling rapid due diligence, competitive analysis, and expert talent discovery that traditional methods can't match. By understanding how these AI systems work internally, you'll not only use them effectively but also confidently lead their strategic design and implementation across your organization, transforming your decision-making velocity and gaining sustainable competitive advantages.
